

NaShantá Fletcher was born and raised in Chicago. She is Manager of Graphic Design for national cable channel WGN America, and has created on-air broadcast graphics for over a decade. As an illustrator, she loves creating fun, expressive characters. She grew up with a love of comics and visual storytelling.

I'D LOVE TO ILLUSTRATE stories with a touch of whimsy and smart, adventurous female leads, or something set in a fantasy world or space. I also love drawing food. Any book that lets me draw delicious food, I'm there!
