

Sarita Rich spent winters cooped up inside, drawing, while growing up above the Arctic Circle in Alaska. She taught middle school language arts before studying illustration at RISD, and now she currently enjoys being warm while living in Hawaii.

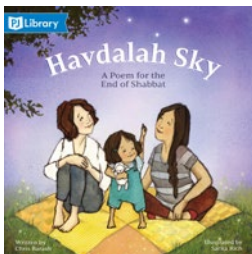

I LOVE books with humor, wit, heart, and potential for playful illustrations. I would love to explore stories with quirky, inspiring female characters. I'm also drawn to books that celebrate diverse families and cultural traditions.

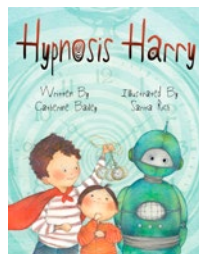

PUBLISHED

SKY PONY

PJ LIBRARY

SKY PONY

