

Colleen Kong-Savage moved from country to country as a child before settling in New York City, where she earned an MFA in Columbia's fiction-writing program and a black belt in Taekwondo. She is a freelance graphic artist. Her illustration debut, The Turtle Ship by Helena Ku Rhee, garnered a Freeman honor.

“FRESH OFF the roller coaster of 2020, I want to draw things that swish and swerve. I'd love a sweetly funny manuscript. Nothing better than giggling aloud while sketching a character into existence.”

