

Alisa Coburn is a former Sydney city slicker who now lives and works in the sleepy English countryside. Thanks to the skills she learned in the animation, design and advertising industries, she gets to spend all day, everyday, scribbling and daydreaming. She still can't quite believe she gets paid for it.

"I'D LOVE TO ILLUSTRATE a rollicking steampunk adventure series with an unlikely hero, quirky characters, and loads of spooky riddles, secret passages, rascallions, and skullduggery."
