

Lisbeth Checo is a Dominican American illustrator from NYC who can usually be found reading or creating art inspired by her favorite book characters. Lisbeth's photo-realistic illustrations are inspired by her passion for fashion and cultural identity. She has a BFA in illustration from Parsons School of Design.

“ I'D LOVE to illustrate diverse and empowered characters with big hair. I would also love to do anything fashion related where I can draw beautiful clothes and create colorful patterns.”

