

Diana Schoenbrun is an author-illustrator, designer, and puppet builder based in Brooklyn. She received her BFA in Illustration from RISD and MFA in Illustration from the Fashion Institute of Technology. Diana currently teaches Illustration at Queens College, CUNY.

“ I ENJOY the challenge of designing unique and quirky characters that stand out from the crowd. I'm drawn to stories with both humor and emotion, and I'm a fan of Quentin Blake and Oliver Jeffers.”

