

Amy Everson is an author-illustrator from Seattle. She has a degree in aerospace engineering and completed the Writing for Children series at the University of Washington. In her spare time she enjoys climbing mountains, martial arts, baking, and spending time with her husband and puppy, Luna.

“ I WOULD LOVE a project about engineering, a holiday theme, something with a Tim Burton vibe, or anything about the outdoors, cozy settings, and fun adventures. ”

