DANAMARIE HOSLER is an autistic illustrator, fiber artist, and muralist based in Baltimore, Maryland. She loves and relates deeply to the humble but mighty pigeon. Her work is based around the idea that art should be accessible to all people, in all forms. In those rare moments when she's not making art, you can find her perfecting her macarons and croissants, or bird watching.

I'D LOVE TO ILLUSTRATE meaningful stories with strong and positive messages, animals, and kiddos. I'm inspired by mid-century art, colors, and patterns and love to incorporate playful design in my work.
