

Sabina Hahn grew up in Riga, Latvia and now lives in Brooklyn where she is an illustrator, animator, and ceramicist who loves tall tales. She has always been a voracious reader and an unstoppable doodler. Her greatest talent lies in conveying the understated humor and tenderness of both daily life and realms of fantasy.

MY FAVORITE stories are funny and a little silly and a little sad. I adore The Day No One Was Angry by Toon Tellegen and would love to illustrate stories like that. I also love pen and ink and a limited palette.
