

Jennifer Bower is an author-illustrator who grew up in Pennsylvania on a steady diet of animation and mid-century picture books. She holds a BFA in Interior Design and illustrated Audrey Vernick's The Funniest Man In Baseball: The True Story of Max Patkin (Clarion). Jennifer lives in North Carolina.

I'D LOVE TO ILLUSTRATE silly, subversive stories and characters with lots of room for action, reaction, and interaction. I'm inspired by nature and have a penchant for drawing farms, barns, horses, my pets, goofy-looking kids, and wonky perspectives.
